FAQS

How would I benefit from having HR consulting services?

We work with you as your “outsourced HR Department”. Our solutions are customized to your business. We can be there to handle one project, to provide you with ongoing HR support, to help you develop your leadership teams or to help you hire new talent!

Do I need an employee handbook?

Yes! It's important your teams know what your expectations are, while staying on top of new BC employment legislation, HR best practices and trends. We can customize a handbook for your unique culture and needs.

How do I have a difficult conversation with an employee about their conduct at work?

These conversations are never easy, but we'll help you work through it and prepare you so that you can have a meaningful and constructive conversation. We can also provide guidance on potentially litigious situations.
